VILLA IS ONE DAY IN FRONT

Of Pursuers, Says Report—No Limit Placed On Stay Of Our Troops.

ACCURATE NEWS YET LACKING

El Paso, Tex., April 10.—Confirmation of reports that Francisco Villa was in the neighborhood of Parral, or had passed it, was brought to Juarez to-day by Gen. Francisco Bertani, the Carranza commander at Madera.

General Bertani, who came to Juarez for a conference with his superiors, said that before he left Madera Saturday authentic reports were received that Villa had been seen at Camargo. This town is about sixty miles northeast of Parral. Bertani had no report on how close the American troops were following.

The last fight between Carranza troops and Villa forces occurred at San Francisco de Borja, four days ago, the General said. The Villa forces were defeated, leaving behind them a number of dead and wounded.

General Bertani said he had absolute information that Villa had been wounded. The bandit was shot in the left leg, he said, and was further injured when his horse fell on him, breaking the bones of the leg.

He reported detachments of the American forces at Santa Anna and Naniquipa.

Both General Gavira and General Bertani asserted they had no knowledge that a limit had been placed on the operations of American troops in Mexico.

"I understand, however," General Bertani added, "that the American forces will be willing to withdraw as soon as the Villa organizations are thoroughly broken up."

Detachments of the Thirteenth Cavalry are hard on the bandit's trail, but no official word has come from the front to indicate their position. Mexican reports stated to-day that Villa has a full day ahead of his pursuers. If Villa succeeds in reaching Durango City, he probably will be joined by the forces of the Arrieta brothers, who command more than 1,000 men.

A statement attributed to Mexican Consul Garcia that Villa has now escaped any possibility of capture by the Americans, having crossed a dead line established by President Wilson and General Carranza, beyond which it was agreed that the American troops would not continue their pursuit for the bandit, was flatly denied by Mr. Garcia. The Mexican consul said, as far as he knew, no limit of the American pursuit had been agreed upon.

Mexican officials here will not discuss a report that the de facto government will soon inform the American Government that it is in a position to relieve the American troops of the task of chasing Villa.

FARMER BUILDS ARK EXPECTING BIG FLOOD

Drayton, N. D., April 8.—John Rule, a farmer living on the Red river south of here, believes that the present high water in that and other streams in this section is a forerunner of a flood equal to that described in Genesis, and has built an ark in which he expects to save himself and family. A large houseboat, provisioned for forty days, has been constructed and hauled close to the porch of his farmhouse in order to provide a means of escape from the expected high water.

MINING COMMITTEES TAKE ANOTHER RECESS

No agreement having been reached or even approximated after a week's deliberations, a second recess was taken Saturday by the conference committees of the Western Kentucky Coal Operators' Association and District No. 23 of the United Mine Workers of America, in Louisville. Another attempt to fix a wage scale for 1916 will be made April 25, when the conference committees will reassemble in Louisville.

Six thousand miners involved in the negotiations will continue working pending the final outcome of the conference. Until negotiations are broken off there will not be a strike. The mine operators are demanding a cut of 20 per cent. in the men's wages, while the men are asking a 5 per cent. increase on day work and a 3-cent increase on mine-run work.

International Vice President Frank J. Hayes of Indianapolis, took part in the negotiations Saturday morning in an advisory capacity. He left the city in the afternoon. Committeemen representing the miners and operators, before returning to Central City, said neither side had offered concessions and that they were deadlocked.

NEGRO LYNNED; BODY DRUG THROUGH STREET

Lawton, Okla., April 9.—Carl Dudley, a negro, was taken from the Comanche county jail here to-night by a mob of 200 unmasked men and shot to death in the jail yard. Dudley was arrested late yesterday on a charge of fatally wounding Patrolman James Hayes while resisting arrest for a minor offense. Hayes died this morning. After Dudley had been killed the body was tied to an automobile and dragged through the streets.

TRouble Comes To The KENTUCKY REPUBLICANS

Some Delegates-At-Large Must Play Second Fiddle at the National Convention.

Louisville, April 8.—The action of the sub-committee of the Republican national committee in declaring against double delegations, directly affects the Kentucky delegation, as at the recent State convention in Louisville eight delegates-at-large, with half a vote each, were chosen, instead of four, as heretofore.

Leading Kentucky Republicans said here that under the national committee's mandate the delegations-at-large from Kentucky will have to meet to settle among themselves who will go to Chicago.

As a result of the decision of the sub-committee of the Republican national committee, according to which a contest is deemed to exist whenever a State sends a "double" delegation to the national convention, the eight delegates-at-large elected at the recent Republican State convention either will have to settle among themselves which four of them shall be delegates, or must leave their fate with the national convention in June. That is the opinion of Alvis S. Bennett, secretary of the Republican State Central Committee, who said that the committee could do nothing in the matter with the probable exception that it might act in an advisory capacity. Mr. Bennett said a similar situation was encountered four years ago, when the delegation from the Fifth Kentucky district sent two delegates, with one-half vote each, for each delegate entitled to a full vote. At that time, he said, the convention told the delegation to arrange the matter among themselves, which was done by naming half of the delegates as real delegates and the others as alternates. Mr. Bennett expressed the opinion that similar action would be taken this year unless the matter was adjusted by the eight men elected as delegates-at-large.

The call for the Republican national convention provided for only four delegates from the State-at-large. At the State convention recently held in Louisville by the Republicans there was a bitter fight on the floor of the convention as to the personnel of the delegation from the State-at-large. It was decided to name eight delegates with half a vote each. Then it was that the negro delegates demanded two delegates on the delegation from the State-at-large. However, the convention refused to grant the request of the negroes, and much bitter feeling was engendered among the colored brothers over the State.

$25,000,000 CASH HAS BEEN GIVEN

To Sufferers From the Great War

BY PEOPLE OF THIS COUNTRY

Vast Stores Of Food, Clothing and Other Supplies Have Been Furnished.

ADDITIONAL SMALLER AMOUNTS

New York, April 10.—At no time since the outbreak of the European war has there been a satisfactory compilation of the total relief extended by the people of the United States to the sufferers from that great conflict.

The New York Sunday World presents a careful summary of these efforts, giving the results of an exhaustive inquiry which reveals for the first time the extent and effectiveness of the work.

Twenty-five million dollars represents in cash what the people of the United States have contributed.

A quarter of a billion dollars, it is estimated, is the grand total spent in relief work abroad since the war began, and the United States, through its cash contributions and the vast stores of food, clothing and supplies furnished, is regarded as having responded nobly to the calls.

Here are the largest cash funds raised:

Commission for relief in Belgium $7,363,326

Jewish relief committee, 5,500,000

Various organizations and committees for relief in Germany,
Austria-Hungary and allied nations 5,000,000

Various smaller amounts have been raised by other committees, and supplies worth millions of dollars have been collected and forwarded by committees in addition to the cash receipts as shown above.

$500 REWARD DEPOSITED IN SEARCH FOR BEDFORD

Lexington, Ky., April 8.—Five hundred dollars reward for information which will lead to discovery of the whereabouts of Samuel K. Bedford, if living, or how he came to his end, if dead, was announced to-night by the committee conducting the search for the mysteriously missing insurance man of this city.

The money will be paid in cash immediately, but the offer extends only to May 8.

The circulars announcing the reward will be sent all over the country. In the belief that the body may be at the bottom of the Kentucky river in the neighborhood of High Bridge, a number of the circulars were distributed at that point. Half of the $500 has been put up by friends of Mr. Bedford and the other by his family. The money has been deposited in the Fayette National Bank, and the circulars bear a statement from W. F. Warren, cashier of the bank, that it will be paid to any person who will unveil Mr. Bedford's fate.

The search committee is composed of the Rev. R. H. Crossfield, president of Transylvania College; J. W. Carter, keeper of seals, Kentucky Knights of Pythias; S. A. Glass, W. T. Woolfolk and W. C. Lawwill.

PERSONAL ADORNMENT DISCARDED BY SOLDIERS

Douglas, Ariz., April 8.—The wives of officers and men of the Seventh United States Cavalry, which participated in the hardest part of the punitive expedition into Chihuahua, received a heavy batch of mail from the front to-day. All letters were written in pencil; none was stamped, and only one or two inclosed in envelopes. The latest one was dated from Guerrero, March 28.

The chief privation endured, one letter said, was in having to throw away all their personal effects, even tooth brushes and razors. Every officer and man in the Seventh is letting his beard grow, one letter said. One man said he lived on parched corn while on duty with a small detachment. Another said that he had lived for days at a time onhardtack.

All the letters expressed the utmost confidence and determination to succeed in capturing Villa.

TRIAL OF AN ALASKAN
TEACHER COST $75,000

Court Proceedings In Far-Away
Country Are Very Difficult and Costly.

Seward, Alaska, April 10.—A drunken brawl in which an Indian killed a white man, started United States District Attorney William M. Spence from here on a 1,200-mile trip by boat to Unga, near the Western tip of the Aleutian Islands.

He went to see whether Simon Verskin, the Indian, should be brought here for trial with the necessary witnesses, at large expense to the Government. Verskin claims he shot in self-defense.

Administration of justice in Western Alaska comes high because of the great distance involved in transporting witnesses and prisoners. Recently a Government teacher was convicted at Seward for an alleged statutory offense at Attu Island, where his school was situated. Fees and traveling expenses ran to $15,000, all told.

The coastguard cutter Tahoma was wrecked while enroute for additional witnesses and several of her crew were drowned. The boat carrying the prisoner to the revenue cutter upset and the prisoner's leg was broken. The total cost of the trial was said to exceed $75,000, besides loss of life. The prisoner received a jail sentence of several months.

YOUNG MAN DROWNED AT PLEASURE RESORT

Centertown, Ky., April 10.—(Special)—Mr. J. H. Igleheart and daughter Miss Lydia passed through here Saturday enroute from Hopkins county, where they had been to attend the funeral of Mrs. Igleheart's nephew, Mr. Earl Oglesby, who was drowned at the pleasure resort at Crooked Lake, Florida, last Monday. After having finished their sporting, they discovered one of their rowboats was adrift. He waded and swam out about 10 feet from shore to the boat, where he took cramps and drowned in 7½ feet of water.

His remains were accompanied home by his cousin, Mr. Arthur Oglesby, who has been at Bartow, Fla., for several years. His remains were interred in the family burying grounds Friday afternoon, after funeral services at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Prat Oglesby, near White Plains, Ky.

Those who attended the burial from this county were: Miss Maude Calloway, Clarence Ward, Willie and George Igleheart, Mr. J. H. Igleheart and daughter.

The deceased was 21 years old, leaves a father, mother, two sisters, two brothers and a host of relatives and friends to mourn his untimely death.

END OF PURSUIT NOW INDICATED

But Informally Denied By Secretary Baker.

ORIGINAL ORDERS EXPLAINED

War Department's Plans For Pursuing the Chase Going Forward Actively.

PURPOSE NOT YET COMPLETED

Washington, D. C., April 9.—Signs pointed to-night to an early conclusion of the American expedition into Mexico.

Although some uncertainty existed as to just what will be considered a successful conclusion, there were indications that the end is near, whether Villa is captured or not.

However, withdrawal of the troops is not contemplated until this "success" is gained.

For the first time it was announced to-day that the original orders to Major-General Funston did not provide specially for the death or capture of the bandit leader, but that the work of the United States troops would be regarded finished as soon as Villa's band or bands are known to be broken up," and that the Americans would withdraw "as soon as the de facto government of Mexico is able to relieve them of this work."

Secretary Baker, informally denying that immediate withdrawal of the expeditionary force was contemplated, indicated that the War Department had information that the United States troopers were close upon Villa's trail, and that the expedition might soon accomplish the purpose for which it was sent across the border.

"The object of the expedition was stated when it was undertaken," said Secretary Baker. "It has never been changed. No other orders have been given, and the expedition is busily pursuing its purpose now with what I hope is a fair chance of early success."

This expression from the War Secretary gave rise to hopes that the pursuit would not have to be continued much longer. Reports have indicated that the troops are close to Villa. It was stated officially to-day that General Funston's orders were broad enough to include dealing personally with the question and that if he thought the chances of capturing Villa were good, or that if he believed the death of the leader was necessary to "break up his band or bands," he would not be hampered in the least by the War Department.

As an evidence that immediate withdrawal was not contemplated, Secretary Baker said that all the War Department's plans for pursuing the chase were going forward actively, an order being placed only to-day for 15 gasoline-carrying motor trucks for General Pershing's campaign. The American forces were "pushing ahead," he said, but gave no details of the operations.

Secretary Baker said General Funston had not yet reported that the American expedition's object had been attained. It was recalled that on the day the troops crossed, Secretary Baker said their object was to "capture or disperse" the bandits who raided Columbus.

Secretary Lansing also issued a statement saying he knew of no intention to withdraw the troops. He said also that no intimation had come from the Carranza Government that de facto Government officials thought General Pershing had accomplished his mission and should return to United States territory.

YOUNG EMBEZZLER GETS A FIVE-YEAR SENTENCE

Covington, Ky., April 8.—"Young man, I have an extremely pleasant duty to perform in imposing this penalty on you. It is the judgment of this court that you be sentenced to the penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., for five years."

Colbert Cecil, former bookkeeper in the Catlettsburg (Ky.) National Bank, charged with the misapplication of funds from that institution, stood with bowed head before the bar of justice in the United States Court here when Judge Cochran made the foregoing statement. Cecil was indicted on six counts. Accompanying the indictment was a written statement signed, "Colbert Cecil," in which the signer admitted he was guilty of embezzling funds and misappropriating them.

According to National Bank Examiner Chenuault the shortage may reach $40

THE INTOLERANT ATTITUDE SHOWN

BETWEEN TEUTONIC AND ANGLO-SAXON PHILOSOPHIES

A FACTOR IN THE BIG WAR

SYNOPSIS OF THE CONFLICTING THEORIES WHICH ARE CONTINUALLY MAKING TROUBLE.

WHEN PIRATES ROAMED OCEAN

There's an endless conflict between Teutonic and Anglo-Saxon philosophies; Spiritualism or Christianity arrayed against Materialism; Individualism against Socialism; our ideals against Prussian Militarism with all its Hertzchean theories, and most of all, the whole force of our religion against that sublimation of intolerable, crazy bigotry, "Myself and God," now embarked upon a colossal adventure that is drenching the world in blood.

These theories can never be reconciled. We who maintain that the individual should be exalted infinitely above the State, making it only a means of his advancement, can never debase the man to exalt the State, and make its perfection the supreme, the only object of human existence. In its ultimate analysis, Socialism is just that, and this is exactly the reason why a red-blooded Anglo-Saxon can never be a Socialist, and, likewise, just the reason Germany is the hotbed of Socialism.

It seems that He, in the hollow of whose hand lies the destinies of mankind, has chosen this time and way to crush these medieval spirits crouching in the path of democracy in its onward sweep toward that state of human perfection—the full consciousness of individual responsibility. Yet, with all we should give even the devil his due. Now we know that firmness in the right makes more for durable peace than all your time-serving, vacillating diplomacy. Even firmness in the wrong, if honest, is often better than cowardly temporizing. This is forcibly illustrated in the serious consequences of a peace-at-any-price policy under the Bryan regime, that led Germany to believe that we were not only a nation of cowards but four to one against our President's firm stand for an established principle of international usage. See how this pliant, vote-bidding policy strengthened Germany's determination to sink all armed merchantmen without warning, in open violation of international law. Had she known the truth, had Bryan been as clear and firm as Wilson, she never would have forced an issue that has brought all our efforts for peace to the very brink of war.

It is scarcely conceivable that a true lover of country, capable of rising above self and partisan advantages, could do what Bryan and Gore have done. Menaced, as we are, by war on every hand, think of a patriot congratulating his country on having an army reserve of only sixteen men and not enough powder to fight a single battle, as if Jericho could still be taken with ram's horns; but it is still more amazing that a Secretary of State, representing the candor and integrity of a great nation, who held their word as a sacred thing, when asked by the accredited Ambassador of Austria, if his note to Germany of February 10, 1915, involving tremendous issues "meant business," could reply in a manner that left the distinct impression that it did not, and was only the merest sop thrown to a blathering rabbit at home. Good Lord!

About the best thing that could happen in this distracted country, a thing that would turn our gloom into the longest, loudest, lustiest laugh the country ever heard, would be for this swivel-tongued, office-smitten, leather-lunger, chautauqua-crazed, money-mad, hyphenated smollygoster to get that tireless tongue caught in a double-gear clothes wringer.

I could not find it in my heart to say so unkind things of these peerless patriots—if I could think of anything worse—and I suppose I should apologize, but—oh, slosh! the more I know of some men the better I like my dog—that trusting, loyal, noble, matchless friend, who with eager, honest mien looks me squarely in the eye with no thought of reward, without a trace of guile; pleads to serve me, through thick and thin, to the end—"may God make me worthy of my dog."

But I've rambled 'round scandalous!

NOT SUCH A FOOL.

"Here's a strange case," said Mrs. Spotter to her husband. "A man they called the town fool up in New Hampshire died, and they weighed his brain. It was heavier than the average."

"Is that all it says about him?"

"Yes—except that he was for many years entirely dependent on well-to-do relatives."

to arm in self-defense, nor does any body assume that a single nation can amend or repeal an international law, or that any or all can do so in times of war. But it is said that he who hears one side only, hears nothing.

It is a principle if not the letter of international law, that when the reason for a law ceases, that law is automatically abolished. Now, up to the middle of the last century, the seas were infested with pirates, and in time of war, letters of marque were granted privateers. It was against these dangers, and these alone, that trade vessels were allowed to arm. These dangers no longer exist. For three quarters of a century piracy has been swept from the seas and letters of marque are no longer granted privateers. Then why do England, France and Italy persist in arming their merchantmen? All reasons for this precaution ceased long ago. A beligerent's right of search for contraband of war is unquestioned. It is far-fetched for England to admit this right and in the same breath deny the right of approach, for, without approach there could be no search. Is it not then a fair conclusion that what England really wants is guns aboard her merchantmen to shoot the periscopes off the German submarines, which in itself would be an act of war that would at once transform the ship into a war vessel; that the law justifies Germany in sinking without warning or any provision for the safety of its passengers and crew? It is from this angle of view that Germany very plausibly contends that, since there no longer remains a reason for it, all merchantmen should disarm, as easy solution of a very grave issue, the bad management of which has brought us to a point that means a fight or backdown.

Besides, otherwise we may establish precedents that would render all our own submarines useless in the future. Yet we owe Germany little but simple justice. We reject her theories of life and its aims and her friendship, to say the least, has been somewhat arrogant and preconceived. Even her Steuben and De-Kall were brought to the aid of the Revolution under French influence and we shall never quite forget that she hired thirty thousand—more than the whole Continental Army—of her soldiers to England to help conquer that rugged little land, every one a hero, of patriots in their struggle for independence. How different was France with her precious sympathy and invaluable aid in these times of agonizing travail, when the greatest of nations was born amid the throes of a bloody revolution!

The act of the recent Legislature allowing one dog free of tax to the head of each family will just about do away with the dog tax question. Of course every man will admit to the assessor that he has a dog, his own personal property, but what's the use of claiming ownership of any more than that? The neighborhood may be full of bone-polishers—more than one for every inhabitant—but the assessor hasn't time to trace down their pedigree or ownership. And the sheep men will scarcely be reimbursed for dog-killed flocks.

It is the aim to have one million people in the Sunday Schools of Kentucky on May 7th, which is Go-To-Sunday-School day this year. It seems a pity that the people of the State cannot get to Sunday School a majority of the Sundays in the year, but when a special effort is made to get a great crowd of those thus inclined out for just one day in a twelve-month, everybody ought to aid in this very laudable purpose. There is plenty of time to get ready and work up interest in the matter. Let there be a large attendance, each one bringing somebody else.

Nearly every town of any size has a few object-lessons in it of what awaits a boy who grows up in idleness and carelessness as to what the future holds in store for him. He is always wanting a soft job at good pay and if he goes to work at all, he will gladly change his occupation for something easier at the same pay or a slight increase if the work is no harder. He cares little about learning a trade. In the course of years he grows into the personality of his prototype aforementioned—a familiar character without regular occupation or ambition. Is the rising generation blind to object lessons?

Hartford has had its clean-up days set in other springtimes, but they never seemed to result in a general movement of our citizens in that direction. The days would usually go by without any special observance. Perhaps a clean-up week would be better, during which several good days for the purpose might occur. Anyhow, Hartford needs cleaning up all over—nobody will dispute that. It should be a matter of pride with every citizen to know that his town, and especially his own premises, present a neat and attractive appearance. Plans should be outlined and all should take a personal interest in the matter.

Those Republicans who less than four years ago expressed their outraged feelings in the declaration that Teddy Roosevelt was the worst specimen of party-wrecker that ever trod the earth ought to be prepared to swallow their political medicine. Roosevelt will almost as certainly be nominated as their candidate for President as that the g. o. p. convention will meet in Chicago. And furthermore he will be nominated on his own personally dictated terms—no other. So those Republicans who a few months ago swore they would have no more of Roosevelt—no, never!—must get ready to swallow not only his nomination but their own erstwhile bitter denunciation of him.

Col. Roosevelt has outlined to a few friends—with a press representative present, of course—the policy upon which he must be nominated for President or he positively will not accept. But please bear in mind that the Colonel is not a candidate for this nomination. No, siree! Not on your life! He's merely in a receptive mood and wants to forestall any proceeding which might not suit him. But as to the policy—there will be no pussy-footing on his part, it must be to the interest of the United States and therefore to the interest of the Republican party to nominate him, the platform must be anti-hyphen, &c., &c. However, you must not get it into your head that the Colonel is a candidate. Positively not!

Central City has a rather queer ordinance in force in regard to selling "soft drinks." Defining "soft drinks" as "any liquid mixture, beverage or decoction containing no alcohol and possessing no intoxicating property or quality or constituent," it says the license to sell same shall be $10 per year. It says such license shall be revoked when the possessor is found to also be "in possession of a United States Special Tax Stamp, commonly called United States License, for carrying on the business of retail dealer in spirituous, vinous or malt liquors." Then further on it says "Before engaging in the occupation of selling by retail any malt mixture or malt beverage containing any alcohol" the dealer shall first procure a license and pay an annual tax therefor of $1,000. All of which sounds a little conflicting.

That liquor is being sold in Hayti (our colored suburb) and bootlegged around Hartford, is evidenced by the men seen under the influence of it almost every day and by notorious events that have transpired in this vicinity lately. And we are confident that Hartford is not the only place in the county which suffers in this respect. It is becoming outrageous and it seems like there ought to be some remedy. It is a shame that any community should be under the domination of a set of evildoers who ply their nefarious trade in utter defiance of the law. Citizens should wake up. For a second conviction a blind tiger can now be sent to the penitentiary. Evidently there are guilty ones hereabouts.

There is ever a constant longing with some people who live in the rural districts to "go to the city." They seem to imagine that a great city contains all the happiness, contentment and prosperity that the human heart could wish for. To them a big city seems to be the great starting place for all prosperous careers. The pity is that they do not know the other side of this matter. Where a large city contains a dozen or two really prosperous men, there are thousands who are on the verge of desperation to make a decent living. City life among the workers is a fierce and ceaseless grind that soon gets to be nerve-racking. More than fifty per cent of city dwellers would much prefer to live in the country.

KILLING AT ROCKPORT
AFTER A FIERCE FIGHT

Rockport, Ky., April 10.—(Special)—Last Friday evening about 8 o'clock, Leonard Anderson, Virgil Anderson and Warner Kelley met Roy Oller on Main street near Kevill's store in Rockport, and after a few words passed between Leonard Anderson and Roy Oller, they got into a scrap. After Oller had knocked Leonard Anderson down, Anderson got up and used a knife on Oller, cutting a gash about 2 1/2 inches long just below the heart. Oller was then moved to Tom Decker's where he died early this morning.

It is difficult to get the particulars in the case, as is usual in drunken rows on the streets. It is understood this morning that the Andersons and Kelley have left town without giving out their destination.

All the parties involved in this matter are young men except Virgil Anderson. Oller's parents live in Tennessee. Word was sent to them and it is supposed that the remains will be taken to the home in Tennessee. Andersons and Kelley are citizens of this town. Oller is said to have been a peaceable, quiet, law-abiding young man.

CLEWS LAUDS WILSON
AS CHURCH APPLAUDS

The New York World says: Henry Clews, the banker, took politics, Wall Street and the war with him into the Park Avenue Methodist church yesterday morning, in an address which was applauded by the congregation, particularly when Mr. Clews praised President Wilson for keeping the country out of the war.

Mr. Clews explained that he had been a Republican all his life, but that he heartily approved of President Wilson's conduct of the problems which had confronted him, and of his general policy.

"I would go to war myself," he said, "if going to war would bring back to life the Americans who have lost their lives through Germany's conduct. But war would add a million or more to their number."

MEETING TO PLAN FOR DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

Louisville, Ky., April 8.—S. W. Hager, chairman of the Democratic State Executive committee, has issued a call for a meeting of that body in Louisville, Friday, April 14, at 1 o'clock, at the Watterson hotel, for the purpose of fixing a time and place for the Democratic State convention in Kentucky.

It is certain that the convention will be held either in Louisville or in Lexington. The party rules leave with the State Executive Committee the duty of arranging for the convention, but the State Central Committee will meet on the same day. The convention may be called to meet in two weeks after the meeting of the committee, but the usual custom is to allow thirty days.

It costs a lot of money to educate girls, and after they graduate very few of them are able to support a husband.

TEDDY IS LIKELY TO GIVE TROUBLEAt the Convention At Chicago In June.

HE WILL RULE HUGHES OUT

If He Goes Into the Fray—A Unique Political Situation Is Presented.

PEACE IS VERY MUCH WANTED

There is plenty of material lying around loose to make a political situation in this country of the first magnitude.

There are three men around which it now centers—the President, Justice Hughes and Mr. Roosevelt. The President will be renominated at St. Louis beyond doubt. But when he gets that nomination the Republicans will have had their battle at Chicago, and it will be reasonably apparent whether they have thrown away their chances or met the requirements of the occasion.

A great many important interests are closing around Mr. Roosevelt as their favorite for Republican standard bearer. With the exception of Justice Hughes there is no man who appears able to combat him in the Republican Convention. It is an anomaly in American politics. Candor compels the statement that Mr. Roosevelt will stand in the eyes of many long-tried Republicans as the man who made the election of Mr. Wilson easy. He made Mr. Taft President in 1908 and repented of his work. He made Mr. Wilson President in 1912 and repented of his work. He said he ran independently in 1912 because the Taft convention, of which Mr. Root was permanent Chairman, "stole" the delegates away from him. Hence there is much which must be explained. The whole Republican campaign would have to be one of explanation and defense. That is the only trouble about Mr. Roosevelt's candidacy, although it might be overcome.

The attitude of Justice Hughes, it is true, at this time makes for the success of Mr. Roosevelt's aspirations. The Justice says he is not a candidate. Assuredly he will not accept a nomination which comes to him as the result of a bitter contest at Chicago, although he might accept if the nomination came to him unanimously.

Therefore, the very fact of Mr. Roosevelt's going into the convention would seem to rule Justice Hughes out even more effectively than he has ruled himself out.

Mr. Roosevelt is a very popular American. He has a dash that appeals to the admiration even of his political enemies. His very inconsistencies are sometimes attractive. He, too, changes his mind. His high opinion of himself makes him sometimes lovable, sometimes hateful. But if he is going to "try" for this nomination he cannot devote too much time to the revival of Republican friendships.—[New York Herald.

MAMMOTH TOBACCO ORDER.

New York, April 8.—An order for 20,000,000 pounds of American tobacco for delivery to European governments, principally France and Italy, was executed here to-day by the firm of Gaston, Williams & Wigmore.

BREAK WITH THE KAISER, IS PLEA OF AMERICANS

Paris, April 8.—The American Chamber of Commerce of Paris has sent the following cablegram to President Wilson:

"In defiance of what the Declaration of Independence calls 'a decent respect to the opinions of mankind,' in violation of every principle of humanity, moral and legal; in the face of repeated admonitions, remonstrances and solemn warnings on the part of the United States, the German Government, like an assassin in the night, treacherously, without notice, again has struck down unarmed merchant and passenger ships, sending scores of helpless men, women and children to their deaths.

"On behalf of humanity we demand that this intolerable situation shall cease. On behalf of our fellow citizens, murdered and maimed on the Englishman and on the Sussex, we protest against continuance of diplomatic relations with a Government whose blood madness, ferocity and lawlessness have brought upon it the execrations of the whole civilized world.

MORMON CHURCH LEADER
RAPPS WOMEN'S FASHIONS

Salt Lake City, Utah, April 10.—President Joseph F. Smith, of the Mormon Church, made a vigorous attack on present-day dress of women before several thousand men and women at the Sunday School conference at the Tabernacle here.

"I want to enter my protest against the prevailing fashion for women," he said.

"I see young women going down the streets in garb not only ridiculous but shameful, suggestive and humiliating to the modesty of honorable men; garbs that make lustful the low scoundrels who are willing to defile anything that is sacred.

"To say that I am ashamed of such fashions of dress is speaking my mind very mildly."

PEPPER BOX LID NEARLY CAUSES DEATH OF MAN

Petersburg, Ind., April 10.—Howard Akridge, foreman in a railroad shop at Madison, Ill., came near meeting death here yesterday evening under unusual circumstances. He was eating a bowl of soup in Mitchell's restaurant, when the top flew off the pepper box into his soup and getting the piece into his mouth, he half swallowed it. It took physicians thirty minutes to fish the pepper box lid from Akridge's throat, where it had become lodged.

REPORT ON GASOLINE.

Washington, April 10.—The Federal Trade Commission to-day presented to Congress a preliminary report of the investigation of the rise in the price of gasoline, but draws no conclusion. The table shows the Standard Oil Company produced about 60 per cent. of the year's output but that the independent refineries' price ranges were about a cent a gallon higher than the Standard's.

FAMOUS AUTOIST KILLED.

Corona, Cal., April 8.—Both Bob Burnham and his mechanician, Erich Schrader, are dead as the result of a bursted tire in the running of the Corona Grand Prize race this afternoon. The celebrated speeder's car was traveling at the rate of a hundred miles an hour when the tire blew out. Besides the driver and mechanician, F. M. Sheer, a guard, was killed and five spectators were injured.

WORTH WEIGHT IN GOLD.

Maysville, Ky., April 10.—A druggist here, while cleaning up his stockroom, found a good-sized can of aniline red that had been in stock for twenty years and which had been purchased at an extremely low figure. He at once wrote a firm in Detroit, asking its market value, and was staggered when he received a reply: "Place it in a safety vault; it will be worth more than that much gold in a month!"

MEXICANS ARE FINDING OUT.

It is noticeable that most of the alarming reports as to conditions in Mexico are unverified rumors that circulate freely on the border, where the wish for intervention is very strong. The few brief chronicles that come from the American troops in pursuit of Villa signify neither panic nor desperation. Whether this expedition results in the bandit's capture or not, it has been a wonderful success thus far in convincing the Mexicans that it was undertaken honestly and without thought of the aggression which so many interests on this side of the line have constantly in their hopes.

SEEING IS BELIEVING!

After a careful investigation of all tractors on the market, we have decided to handle the Mogul 8-16.

Why? Because the Mogul 8-16 is the only tractor of its size that we know of that works on low-grade kerosene.

The price of gasoline is now at a point where it worries the nation and there seems to be no relief in sight, because the supply is not large enough to meet the demand.

This is just one reason why we prefer the Mogul 8-16 to any other on the market.

Whether you believe the tractor is a good investment or not, we want you to come in and see for yourself.

Democratic Congress. The differences, such as may exist, between the President and Congress, will be compromised and the party will present a united front.

It is a remarkable record of achievement; nothing to compare with it in number and importance of reforms accomplished. Where Republican leaders have been wrong the President and the Democratic Congress have been right. The Republican leaders have opposed all that has been done in favor of lower tariff rates, an income tax, currency reform and anti-trust legislation. They have insisted on war with Mexico and even want to enter the European war. Where the President has conceded more than he should to the secessionists, the Republican leaders have demanded even more, so that the President is nearer to the people than the Republican leaders. Let every Democrat get ready for the campaign and go to work.—[W. J. Bryan in Commoner.]

James R. Felix Dead.

James R. Felix, who had been in declining health for several months, of stomach trouble, with complications, died rather suddenly at his residence on Sycamore street, Hartford, last Friday morning at 5 minutes to eleven o'clock. After funeral services conducted by Revs. Napier, Harlan and Bennett at the Methodist church at 3 o'clock p. m. Saturday, his remains were interred in Oakwood cemetery. The deceased, who was born September 11, 1895, weighed 210 pounds. However, 1868, had been a member of the M. E. Church nearly 30 years.

He was united in marriage to Iola Martin, who survives him, on March 22, 1894. To this union were born three children—one daughter, Cliffe Felix, age 21; two sons, Cecil Felix, age 18, and Raymond Felix, age 15 years, all living at home.

Jim, as he was familiarly known, was liked by every one who knew him.

Negro Killed in Hayti.

In a wrangle over what was said to be a game of cards, at the residence of Shanks Brookins, in the colored town of Hayti, adjoining Hartford, late Monday evening, Mitchell Taylor shot and fatally wounded Peyton Sullenger and also wounded Ab. Lawrence—all colored. Sullenger lived about three hours after being shot. He received four bullets, which lodged in the upper part of his body. Lawrence was not fatally shot and it is said that his wound was an accident, as the bullet was not intended for him. Taylor, the man who did the shooting, started to town to give himself up and was met by the Sheriff, to whom he surrendered. He claims he shot in self-defense.

The case of Taylor had not yet come up in court late yesterday evening, and consequently his bond had not been fixed, nor had it been decided whether or not he would waive examining trial.

Tallest Boy In State.

A little article appeared in the Gleaner yesterday morning under a Mayville, Ky., date line, stating that a boy in that city was probably the tallest in the State for his age. The lad in question was about 19 years of age, 6 feet 4 inches tall and weighed 210 pounds. However,

Littleton Eblen, of this city, well known in basketball and athletic circles, and better known as "Zeke," has it all over the lad mentioned at Mayville. Eblen is 18 years old, is 6 feet 7 inches tall, and weighs 210 pounds. Notwithstanding his great height and weight, "Zeke" was one of the stars on the Y. M. basketball team and is remarkably fast on his feet.—[Henderson Gleaner].

BALANCED RATION GOOD FOR KENTUCKY HOGS

A special from Cadiz says: Lawrence Bros., proprietors of the Cadiz Record, are also making a reputation as farmers of late. About three weeks ago, under the direction of K. L. Varney, county farm agent, they began a demonstration in hog feeding on their farm seven miles south of here, which is being operated by W. C. Pindexter & Sons.

There were 27 hogs in the bunch, which weighed 2,470 pounds at the beginning. They were fed a balanced ration of nine parts of corn, four parts middlings and one part tankage. After these hogs had been fed just twenty-one days they were again weighed by Mr. Varney this week and weighed 3,400 pounds, having gained 930 pounds in the twenty-one days, or an average of 34 1/2 pounds and a fraction per hog.

HE WAS LOYAL TO HIS BLACK MAMMY

A Story Of the South and Showing The Deep Affection

Existing Between the Old Time Darkies and Their White Companions.

RECONCILIATION AFTER TEARS

(Shelby Oliver in Courier-Journal.) The Edmondsons lived in Mississippi. The family consisted of Grandma Edmondson, Mrs. Edmondson and her son, Charles, named for his father, an officer in the Confederate army, who lost his life at the battle of Vicksburg.

This child of the South, who, in infancy, nursed at a black mammy's breast, and who received his preparatory education from a governess in his home, was starting to college. The old family carriage, with its ebony driver, was at the gate to take him to the station; his mother and grandmother had pressed him to their bosoms and kissed him good-bye.

The negro house servants and field hands were standing around to see him depart. His black mammy had gone into the house to get something overlooked when she packed his gripsack. When the slender youth started down the steps of his old plantation home she ran out, threw her arms around his neck and kissed him. The boy, who held her in great affection, received her caresses as a matter of course, and she walked to the gate with her arm around his shoulder.

A year later, when young Edmondson returned from the university, some of his friends came to his home to bid him welcome. They were his young neighbors, boys and girls with whom he had grown up. Among them was May Travis. May's father was from the North and wealthy. He paid a substitute to take his place in the Union army, and after the war was over, moved to the South. He and his wife never discussed the late unpleasantness with their neighbors, and, being a family of culture and refinement, were admitted into a social circle, their entrance into which money could not buy.

Young Edmondson, dressed in his handsome cadet uniform, alighted from his carriage and ran up the steps of the veranda, on which the little party stood. After being affectionately greeted by his mother and grandmother, he shook hands with the boys and girls, the last of whom was May Travis. Her hand lingered in his longer than the others, and both felt thrills of happiness with the budding of love in their young hearts.

As he released her hand his Mammy, who was arranging the bounteous table to which they would soon sit down, saw him through the window and ran to him. With happiness pictured on her dark face she put her arms around his neck and kissed him. The boys and girls born in the South, some of whom had black Mammies, were not surprised at this show of affection, but May Travis laughed. Young Edmondson hastily released himself from her embrace, and with flushed face told her he was now a man and that she must no longer kiss him.

Wounded by the words of "her chile," she burst into tears and with her white apron held to her face, slowly walked into the house. Charles' mother said: "My son, you have broken your poor Mammy's heart. I am sorry you spoke to her in such a manner. She loves you devotedly and never went to bed when you were away without saying a prayer for your safe return."

But before his mother had spoken Charles felt the blush of shame mount to his cheeks for his treatment of one who had loved him from his babyhood, and all the afternoon and evening thought of the hurt inflicted.

After those of his young friends who did not spend the night at his home had departed he locked the doors of the front hall, went to his room and to bed, but he couldn't sleep. He arose, put on his clothes and walked to the cabin in the corner of the yard occupied by his black Mammy and her husband. Knocking on the door the man asked "Who's there?" "It is I, Uncle Stephen, I want to see Mammy." Almost instantly the door of the humble home was opened and with a shawl around her shoulders the two sat on the steps of the little cabin and talked for a long time, she holding one of his hands in both of hers. One a scion of one of the most aristocratic families in the South—the other his black Mammy.

TOO MUCH WORK BREEDS DISEASE, SAYS BRANDEIS

Washington, April 7.—The United States Supreme Court was urged today to decide that the interests of society demands that the employees of mills, factories and manufacturing establishments shall not work more than ten hours a day.

The question was laid before the court in a brief prepared under the direction of Louis D. Brandeis until his nomination to the Supreme Court obliged him to withdraw. It deals with the constitutionality of the Oregon Ten-Hour Law, but most of its thousand pages are devoted to contending that there is a growing opinion throughout the world that legislation is necessary to limit the hours of labor in mills and factories. The brief was filed for the National Consumers' League.

It states that one of the contributing factors to the increase of heart and kidney diseases in the United States is the stress and strain of American ways of living and working and quotes forty pages of extracts from scientific papers in support of this claim.

Villa Puts Up Mazuma. San Rafael, Cal., April 8.—Six Mexican youths are being educated at a local military academy at the expense of Francisco Villa, it became known here. They have been studying here since 1913, with $18,000 tuition for three years paid in advance.

The Mexican bandit also spent $6,000 in giving six other youthful proteges a year's training at another military academy here two years ago.

Colonel Carlos Juarez, former fiscal agent for Villa at El Paso, brought the 12 boys here in 1913. The fact that Villa was sending them through school was kept a secret.

WOMEN SHRINK FROM MODESTY

Bear Grievous Ailments Rather Than Make Conditions Known.

The subject of complaints peculiar to women is a delicate one, yet it is a plain duty to let these sufferers know that most of the rearrangements which they suffer are due primarily to nervous debility.

Many a suffering woman, influenced by shrinking modesty, has borne this grievous condition without complaint rather than make a personal appeal. When women say, "I am all run down, so nervous and weak," that means they are victims of the modern malady.

Such women, and they are legion in every community, suffer from headaches, backaches, loss of appetite and sleeplessness. Their spirits are depressed and their lives are not the normally happy ones of their more fortunate sisters. Often, too, there are spells of nausea, weakness, or even fainting, that makes them feel insecure and to wonder when they will be embarrassed, or even in danger, because of their condition.

For such suffering women Tanlac, the tonic, tissue builder, appetizer and invigorant, is ideal. Tanlac builds up the system, promotes digestion and propels assimilation of food, vitalizes the blood and brings back healthy color to the cheeks and real sparkle to the eyes.

Tanlac may now be obtained in Hartford at the Ohio County Drug Co.'s store, where its merits are fully explained.

Tanlac may be obtained in the following nearby towns: Beaver Dam, Z. Wilbur Mitchell; Center- town, L. C. Morton & Son; McHenry, Williams Coal Co.; Ceralvo, C. R. A. S. OF E. NOTICE AS TO THE POULTRY DEAL

Don't forget the next poultry delivery at Hartford and Beaver Dam on April the 12th and 13th, and at Centertown, April 13th, p. m., and April 14th, all day.

Remember all poultry can be delivered at pooled prices whether you have signed the pledge or not, as the purchaser has agreed to take the outside poultry, or in other words, this is done in order to avoid confusion at the car and to give every one a chance to take advantage of the high prices.

Thirteen cents was the maximum price up until the day the pool was bought and is yet except in territories where the pool has raised the price. This raise was compelled by other produce firms in order to get poultry and weaken the organization.

Don't forget that the buyer of this pool bid the highest prices and that others have bid more on the day of delivery to buy you, and not to pay more for your poultry; that it is costing the pool buyer more than the other fellow, since he pays to the organization 1 1/2 per cent, to pay your dues so that the organization may be maintained, and that this is paid above the sale price, which is as follows: Hens $14.30, Cocks 9c, Ducks $14.30, Turkeys 16c, Geese 12c, Guinea 25c each. So now don't sell yourself but deliver the goods to the pool car and save your organization.

THE CELEBRATED STALLIONS AND JACKS

LEO BEAUTY.

Reg. No. 12013

Will make the season of 1916 at my breeding stable in Fordsville, Ky., and will serve mares at $10.00 to insure colt to stand and suck. Money due when colt is foaled or mare parted with without my consent. Leo Beauty is a black Percheron with star in forehead, 16 hands high, weight about 1,550 pounds. He possesses all the style and action that any one could desire. His conditions are perfect, is a good, quiet, nice performer and a very intelligent horse. He has proven himself a sure breeder and a great producer of fine colts. They possess lots of style and action. With size and conditions will make just what you are looking for and what the market is demanding. It is calling for more size than the most of stallions will produce. This stallion Leo Beauty has got more high priced colts at weaning time than any stallion in this part of Kentucky. Lots of his colts bring at weaning time $100 and some of his coming two-year-olds are selling for $150 each. If you never saw this stallion it will be worth your time to see him before you breed. The above is an exact picture of Leo Beauty.

ALEX H.

Reg. No. 31702.

Standard Trotting-Bred Stallion. Will also make the season of 1916 at the above named place at $10.00 to insure colt to stand and suck. Money due when colt is foaled or mare parted with.

ALEX H. is one of the best trotting-bred stallions in this part of Kentucky. Dark bay, white feet, 16 hands high, weight 1,250 pounds. He has no equal as a breeder of high class horses. He has proven himself to be the sire of some of the highest priced horses ever bred in this part of Kentucky, and some of the fastest trotters and pacers ever produced in Kentucky, some showing a time of 2:07 pacing, 2:13 1/2 trotting. Can show you some farm horses that trot a three-minute gait in harness. Put them under saddle and they are good saddle horses. ALEX H. is a five-gaited stallion and if you want something good, come and see my stock.

SPANISH KING.

Reg. No. 9504.

Will also be found at the above named place. Will stand at $8.00 to insure a colt to stand and suck. Money is strictly due when colt is foaled or mare parted with.

SPANISH KING is a black jack, 8 years old, white points, 15 1/2 hands high, weight 1,150 pounds, big feet, large bone, fine head and ears, good heavy body with lots of style and action. Stands upon his feet like a St. Louis mule. He is absolutely one of the best breeders ever seen in this part of the country. June Harrison, of Reynolds Station, Ky., who moved from Daviess county here, sold one pair of his mules on the 16th day of March, 1915, for $390.00 in cash. He surely must be a fine breeder for one pair of young mules to bring that price now. This is one of the best jacks in this part of Kentucky. He was bred in Illinois by Robert King Green and sold to Jim Hamilton, of Daviess county, as a 3-year-old, for $850.00 in cash. He is high bred jack and will get you a seller—and with the size.

GRAY JIM.

Will also be found at the above named place and will stand at $5.00 to insure a colt to stand and suck. He is coming 5-year-old and is a gray jack, 14 hands high, and gets good colts for a jack of his size. He got several $60.00 mules last season. He is above the average jack as a breeder and in fact you can't beat any of the four at the price. Remember the best is always the cheapest in the long run. So if you are interested in good stock, come and see me and my stock before you breed, for they are second to none in this part of Kentucky.

They are bred right, look right, act right, and breed right. Care taken to prevent accidents but not responsible should any occur.

CHINA'S QUICK CHANGE IN HER GOVERNMENT

Occurs Without the Masses Of Her Population Knowing Anything About It.

It appears that China is a republic again, in name at least. One-time President and late Emperor Yuan Shi Kai has decided to call himself plain "President" again. China's lightning changes, since the outbreak of the revolution, have been many and spectacular, some of them probably more seeming than real. Through them all the missionaries have gone right on with their work and Christianity has gained constantly in favor and influence.

Dr. S. H. Chester, of Nashville, Tenn., Corresponding Secretary of the Southern Presbyterian Committee of Foreign Missions, thus analyzes the situation in a recent statement:

"Some facetious writer remarks that China is perhaps the only great country in the world which could pass from a monarchy to a republic and then back from a republic to a monarchy without the masses of the people knowing that any such thing had taken place. The trouble is that the great majority of the people of China are occupied with a terrific struggle to provide themselves with three meals of rice a day. They have no time to devote to political affairs. It will be many years before the progress of general education and intelligence can possibly fit them for taking any real part in the government."

Should Not Feel Discouraged. So many people troubled with indigestion and constipation have been benefited by taking Chamberlain's Tablets that no one should feel discouraged who has not given them a trial. They contain no pepsin or other digestive ferments but strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Obtainable everywhere.

BETTER STAY AWAY FROM
MOVIES, SAYS AUTHORITY

In Farm and Fireside is a story about a farm hand who wanted to go into the movies. When he told an experienced friend that he contemplated giving up work on the farm to write scenarios and become a movie actor the latter replied:

"I can't help feeling sorry for you, somehow. You don't know what a foolish play you're making—wanting always to his own personal aggrandizement.

"But whatever one may think of the political situation, it is gratifying to know that our missionary opportunities have not been adversely affected by any of the changes that have taken place. We have access to more people and to more classes of people than we have ever had before. We believe this state of things will continue and that our opportunities in the future will constantly enlarge."

GERMANY ONLY NATION
FEARED, SENATOR SAYS

Washington, April 8.—Senator Thomas, Democrat of Colorado, during discussion of the army increase bill in the Senate, urged adoption of the measure as reported by the committee.

The Senator discussed the insistence of militarists that the United States is in danger of invasion. No such invasion, he contended, was to be feared from Italy, Austria, Russia or France.

"Is it England or Germany?" he asked.

"Not England. Even Roosevelt says we need have no fear of England. Every man, if he will admit it, when he thinks of an invasion of the United States, pictures in his imagination the advancing helmets of German soldiers.

Germany is the only nation that possibly could land an army of 750,000 trained troops on our shores. So when invasion of the United States is mentioned by the militarists, Germany is the one nation that they have in mind."

The Senator said he did not wish to be understood as entertaining any such fears himself, but he thought if there was any such danger it would be greater after the European war was over, when Germany's surviving soldiers, he said, would form the most compact, best equipped fighting force ever known.

THE CHEWING GUM HABIT
COSTS PEOPLE MILLIONS

Washington, April 8.—The chewing gum habit has cost the American people for chicle alone nearly $35,000,000 in the last 10 years, or almost five times as much as we paid Russia for Alaska, according to figures furnished by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce. Normally our annual imports of chicle amount to 7,000,000 pounds, for which we pay about $2,500,000 in the countries of origin, and to which must be added customs duties in our own ports of about $750,000.

Imports of chicle gum during the fiscal year 1915 were as follows: From Mexico, 2,197,000 pounds; from Canada, 2,181,000 pounds; from British Honduras, 1,139,000 pounds; from Venezuela, 952,000 pounds; from the Central American Republics 26,000 pounds.

BETTER STAY AWAY FROM
MOVIES, SAYS AUTHORITY

In Farm and Fireside is a story about a farm hand who wanted to go into the movies. When he told an experienced friend that he contemplated giving up work on the farm to write scenarios and become a movie actor the latter replied:

"I can't help feeling sorry for you, somehow. You don't know what a foolish play you're making—wanting always to his own personal aggrandizement.

"But whatever one may think of the political situation, it is gratifying to know that our missionary opportunities have not been adversely affected by any of the changes that have taken place. We have access to more people and to more classes of people than we have ever had before. We believe this state of things will continue and that our opportunities in the future will constantly enlarge."

BETRAYED BY TELEGRAM.

Fadueah, Ky., April 1.—Frank Miller, 20 years old, and David Miller, 17 years old, wanted in Chicago on a manslaughter charge, are being held here awaiting the arrival of Chicago detectives. The two brothers were arrested late Thursday.

The boys ran down and killed Herman Rau, an 11-year-old youth, while automobile in Chicago a month ago. Since that time they have been roaming over the country. Both claim the accident was unavoidable.

A telegram for money sent to their father in Chicago brought about their arrest.

SPLendid For Rheumatism.

"I think Chamberlain's Liniment is just splendid for rheumatism," writes Mrs. Dunburgh, Eldridge, N. Y. "It has been used by myself and other members of my family time and time again during the past six years and has always given the best of satisfaction." The quick relief from pain which Chamberlain's Liniment affords is alone worth many times the cost. Obtainable everywhere.

BIG SHOW DID WELL.

San Francisco, Cal., April 7.—Final certified statements of the revenues of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, submitted to the Board of Directors, gave the grand total of receipts for admissions and concessions as $12,524,000.

Paid admissions amounted to $4,715,523 and the gross receipts from concessions were $7,809,565. The net revenue from concessions was $1,830,331.

The statements show that concessions offering food, rest and shelter brought in greater revenue than the amusement concessions.

"A druggist has many opportunities to make lasting friends of his customers," said Mr. J. C. Brady, popular Rexall Pharmacist of Fall River, Mass. "The very nature of his business draws their confidence for little helpful suggestions on the matter of health. Many people have thanked me for recommending Rexall Orderlies as the best relief for constipation and its resultant ills. Put up in dainty candy tablet form, they are pleasant to the taste and make an ideal laxative for the home—for men, women and children alike."

Power

DON'T overlook this matter of power. It is important. You want an automobile that will carry you through mud, sand and snow, and do it easily. You want a car that will climb hills, that will get away quickly without laboring and straining its every part.

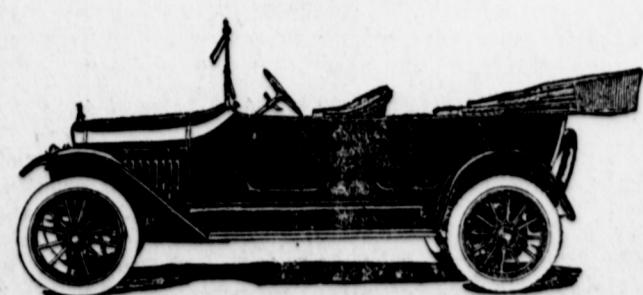

Not all cars can do these things, but you know that the Maxwell can because you have the proof.

When the Maxwell stock touring car set the World's Motor Non-Stop Mileage Record a few weeks ago, it encountered all sorts of unfavorable conditions—rain, mud and hills, over country and city roads—yet it covered 500 miles per day, day after day, for more than six weeks.

Power, plenty of power, unfailing power, is absolutely essential to such a wonderful performance as this.

Let us give you a booklet telling all the details of this record breaking Maxwell car. And let us tell you about our partial payment plan, by means of which you can make a cash deposit and pay the balance while you use the car. Give us the opportunity and we'll prove our case.

SPELLS THE DOOM OF THE LITTLE SCHOOLS

Small Districts Must Come In With County—Have Been Lagging Behind.

Frankfort, Ky., April 8.—The enactment of the law by the last General Assembly requiring graded school districts to maintain a high school equal to that of the county or pay tuition in a high school for its common school graduates sealed the doom of a hundred or more special little districts scattered over Kentucky, which in times past were educational oases, but which now are lagging behind the advanced position of the country rural schools.

T. J. Coats, Supervisor of Rural Schools, is urging these districts, which contain less than $500,000 assessed valuation of property, to dissolve and merge their identity into the county system. With the thirty per cent levy, their limit, he said, it requires an assessment of

ORDERS OHIO COUNTY COURT,
Regular Term, 6th day of March, 1916.
Hon. Jno. B. Wilson, J. O. C. C., Presiding.

J. D. Williams, Guy Stater, J. A. Johnson, J. H. Thomas and 363 other freeholders and legal voters of Ohio county, Kentucky, having on this the 6th day of March, 1916, filed their petition in this Court asking that an election be held in Ohio county, Kentucky, for the purpose of voting on the question of issuing THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND ($300,000) DOLLARS of bonds of Ohio county for the purpose of building roads and bridges in said County and asking that the Court enter an order directing the Sheriff to hold an election for said purpose on the 20th day of May, 1916, and the Court having examined said Petition and the signatures thereto, and the purpose thereof, and being advised, sustains said petition, and NOW ORDERS that an election be held in Ohio county, Kentucky, and in each of the regular established and existing voting precincts thereof for at least thirty days before the date thereof in each of following newspapers published in Ohio county, Kentucky, viz.: Hartford Herald, and Hartford Republican, they being all the newspapers published in Ohio county, and he shall also advertise same by printed handbills posted up at not less than four public places in each voting precinct in the county and at the front door of the court house in Hartford, Kentucky, same to be posted not less than thirty days before the date of said election.

Said Sheriff will submit to the voters of the county at said election the following question:

ARE YOU IN FAVOR OF ISSUING THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND ($300,000) DOLLARS IN BONDS FOR THE PURPOSE OF BUILDING ROADS AND BRIDGES?

Said ballots will be prepared as is provided for in General Election Law, Section 1459 of Kentucky Statutes.

The election herein provided for shall be conducted by those election officers who conducted the regular November 1915 election.

JOHN B. WILSON, J. O. C. C.

A true copy. Attest:
W. C. BLANKENSHIP, Clerk of Ohio County Court.

TO THE VOTERS OF OHIO COUNTY, KENTUCKY:
Pursuant to the above order there will be an election held at the various places of voting in Ohio county, on the 20th day of May, 1916, for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal voters of Ohio county, Kentucky, on the question as to whether or not they are in favor of issuing THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND ($300,000) DOLLARS in bonds of the county for the purpose of building roads and bridges. The polls will be opened and closed at the same times and said election conducted in the same manner as other general elections and by those election officers who conducted the regular November election in 1915.

S. O. KEOWN, Sheriff of Ohio County.

Given under my hand this 8th day of April, 1916.

$500,000 at the minimum for such a district high school. Some of them don't raise more than $100 by their special tax to supplement the State school fund.

They contribute nothing to the county school fund, and the new law will result in one of three things: they will discourage children finishing the eighth grade, they will seek to extend their boundaries, thus reducing their county school territory that much more, or they will abolish the special district.

He believes it to be to the mutual advantage of the district and county to merge, where the district is poor. It will not raise the expenses of the county, which must maintain a high school anyway. It will add the 20 cents from that district to the county fund and having the advantage of the county high school, the people of the district may, if they desire, increase their local assessment for the benefit of the local school.

THREE AMERICANS SLAIN BY BANDITS IN MEXICO

Tucson, Ariz., April 8.—Three United States citizens and one Spaniard were killed yesterday by Mexican bandits nine miles south of Rosario, Sinaloa, Mexico, according to advice received here to-day from Mazatlan at the offices of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company.

The Americans killed were F. C. Burke, former railroad agent at Morrodo; Roderick Davidson and a former conductor named Wallace. The Spaniard was a former conductor named Rodriguez.

They were moving on handcars from Acapulco to Rosario when attacked. The bandits compelled the section hands to load the bodies on the handcars and bring them to the Rosario station.

Special United States Agent James W. Keys took charge of the bodies and sent them from Rosario to Mazatlan, after wiring the American Consul at Mazatlan.

TONS OF "SMOKES" ARE GOING TO THE SOLDIERS

New York, April 1.—The French line steamer Rochambeau, which sailed to-day for Bordeaux, has on board 42,000 pounds of smoking tobacco, 2,500,000 cigarettes and 422 gross of corn cob pipes, which will be distributed among the soldiers of Great Britain and France in France and Belgium. The consignment is in charge of Mrs. George Washington Lopp, who since early in the war has been devoting all her time to the collection of tobacco and pipes for the men in the Allied trenches.

Since Mrs. Lopp began this work in December she has collected altogether in America 104,200 pounds of smoking tobacco and 6,000,000 cigarettes. A large portion of this already has been sent to France. Mrs. Lopp was born in Washington. Her husband is a Paraguayan, son of a former minister from Paraguay to France. Their home is in Paris.

Presidential Pointers.

Washington during his two terms had only five Cabinet Officers—Secretary of State, Treasury and War, Postmaster-General and Attorney-General. Adams had in addition a Secretary of the Navy; Taylor a Secretary of the Interior; Cleveland, in first term, a Secretary of Agriculture; Roosevelt, second term, a Secretary of Commerce and Labor, and Wilson a Secretary of Labor as well as a Secretary of Commerce.

James Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture, held under four administrations, 16 full years, which is the record. Under Roosevelt there were more cabinet changes than under any other President; there being 28 different appointments. Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Van Buren and Buchanan had all been Secretary of State. Monroe, Grant and Taft had been Secretary of War.

Coincidence In Names.

Charles E. Talley and Mrs. Minnie Lee Hawkins were married at the Central Hotel at Maysville last week. There is a coincidence connected with the marriage. Mr. Talley's first wife was named Minnie Lee Hawkins. After her death Talley saw the name Minnie Lee Hawkins announced as a teacher in the Fleming county schools. Being attracted by the name, he sought an introduction which resulted in their marriage. (Dover News.)
